Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Claims 1-15, 19-21, 23, and 25 have been cancelled, therefore, Claims 16-18, 22, and 24 are currently pending in application 10/017,027.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 16, 22, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Independent Claims 16, 22, and 24 have been amended to disclose a changing means for changing the state of the flag of said function from the enabling state to the disabling state in response to a response of said server apparatus to the prohibition request by said prohibition request means. The newly amended subject matter was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 16-18, 22, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aikens et al. (US 6,216,113).
6. As per new independent Claims 16, 22, and 24, Aikens discloses a client terminal (control method, record medium) in which a software including a plurality of functions is installed and which is capable of communicating with a server apparatus (Fig.1), the terminal comprising: setting means for setting respective flags of said plurality functions into an enabling state and a disabling state; controlling means for controlling usability of the function in accordance with the state of the flag thereof set by said setting means, so as to make the function the flag of which is set in the enabling state, usable and make the function the flag of which is set in the disabling state, unusable (Fig.5, Yes/No to Validity, Validity Control, Exceed Acct. Limit control – are all equivalent forms of setting an enabling/disabling flag for use of functions); payment means for executing payment processing of a price of the function the flag of which is set in the enabling state; prohibition request means for automatically requesting the server apparatus to prohibit the usability of said function (Fig.5, Exceed Acct Limit control – Yes decision automatically determined); and changing means for changing the state of the flag of said function from the enabling state to the disabling state in response to a response of said server apparatus to the prohibition request by said prohibition request means (Fig.5, Exceed Acct limit control is equivalent to setting a enabling or disabling flag).

7. Aikens fails to expressly disclose count means for counting a period in which said function the flag of which is set in the enabling state, remains being not used; prohibition request means for automatically requesting the server apparatus to prohibit the usability of said function if said counted period exceeds the predetermined period; and changing means for changing the state of the flag of said function from the enabling state to the disabling state in response to a response of said server apparatus to the prohibition request by said prohibition request means.
8. However, Aikens does disclose the use of billing counters (C5, measuring usage limits; Fig.5, total usage) and the periodic accumulation of billing information (C4 L23-35), and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to cancel the account (equivalent to disabling use of function) or to stop replenishing funds in the account (equivalent to stopping charges) if the billing count information (use of functions) was null upon billing information transfer (count of 1 period between last data transfer), for the purpose of increasing system efficiency and decreasing system load, by only supporting active users of the system.
9. As per new Claim 17, Aikens discloses wherein the function is at least one of a scan function, print function, a copy function and a facsimile transmission function (Fig.4, print function).

Art Unit: 3629

10. As per new Claim 18, Aikens discloses icon display means for displaying icons corresponding respectively to said plurality of functions, said icon display means distinctly displays the icons among said plurality of functions in different states in accordance with the enabling state and the disabling state of the flags thereof (C2, L51-65, Icons; Fig.2, Machine status Icon).

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's arguments filed 6/20/2007 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jonathan Ouellette whose telephone number is (571) 272-6807. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Thursday, 8am - 5:00pm.
13. If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, John Weiss can be reached on (571) 272-6812. The fax phone numbers for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned (571) 273-8300 for all official communications.
14. Any inquiry of a general nature or relating to the status of this application or proceeding should be directed to the Office of Initial Patent Examination whose telephone number is (703) 308-1202.
